Définitions et statut juridique. Il existe plusieurs définitions du sol. Les agronomes nomment parfois "sol" la partie arable (pellicule superficielle) homogénéisée par le labour et explorée par les racines des plantes cultivées. On considère qu'un bon sol agricole est constitué de 25 % d'eau, 25 % d'air, 45 % de matière minérale et de 5 % de matière organique [15].
